I am a recent graduate from Colorado State University with a Bachelor of Science in Interior Architecture and hands-on experience from my internship at an architecture firm in Las Vegas. Proficient in AutoCAD, SketchUp, and Revit, I bring strong technical drafting and 3D modeling skills alongside experience in space planning, elevations, and material selection. I have a strong passion for designing environments that emotionally connect with people and promote well-being. With a positive outlook and belief in the potential of every space, I encourage innovation and create environments where ideas flourish. I take a strategic, big-picture approach to design, combining creativity and practicality to deliver cohesive, purposeful spaces. As I relocate to the Seattle area this December, I am eager to contribute my skills, creativity, and dedication to a collaborative architecture or interior design team.
